

GRIPS CULTURAL POLICY PROGRAM SPECIAL SEMINAR ON
CULTURE FOR DEVELOPMENT
-- MUSEUMS AND THEATERS --

24TH (MON) & 25<sup>H</sup> (TUE) AUGUST, 2015, 18:30 - 20:00

Dr. Xavier Greffe is Professor of Economics at the University Paris I - Sorbonne where he manages the PhD program in Economics of Arts, and he is also President of the French National commission on Artistic Employment.

A leading cultural economist, he will provide new insights on cultural facilities—museums and theaters—in this rapidly changing world. Are they able to function as incubators of human capital and centers of value creation? Who is benefiting from them? And who will bear the operating costs? The answers to these questions will certainly indicate future directions for cultural policy.
